TERMS AND CONDITIONS

The School reserves the right to modify course details, schedules, and faculty at its discretion, with reasonable notice provided to enrolled students.

Tuition fees are non-refundable, except in cases where the School cancels the course.

Enrolled students must attend classes regularly and participate actively in coursework, in compliance with the School's code of conduct.

The School retains the right to use clips, projects, or any other work created by students during the courses for promotional and educational purposes.

Students agree not to reproduce, distribute, or use course materials, including lecture notes and video content, without prior written consent from the School.

Students are required to respect copyright laws and not use third-party materials without proper attribution or permissions.

Any grievances or disputes should be promptly reported to the School administration for resolution.

The School may use student names, images, and other information for promotional purposes unless otherwise specified in writing by the student.
